47(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (7), every shareholder of a co-operative is, on request and without charge, entitled to a certificate, signed by the proper officers of the co-operative, stating the number of shares held by the shareholder and the amount paid on those shares.

(2) With respect to a share held jointly by two or more persons, the co-operative is not required to issue more than one certificate, and delivery of a certificate for a share to one joint shareholder is sufficient delivery to all.

(3) A co-operative may provide in the bylaws that the signatures of the officers designated to sign share certificates may be engraved, lithographed or otherwise mechanically reproduced on the share certificates and, in that event, share certificates so signed are:

- (a) deemed to have been manually signed by those officers; and
- (b) as valid as if they had been manually signed.

(4) A share certificate is evidence of the title of the shareholder to the shares mentioned in the certificate.

(5) Where a co-operative has more than one class of shares:

(a) the preferences, rights, conditions, restrictions, limitations or prohibitions attaching to any class of shares are required to be stated in legible characters:

- (i) on every share certificate representing that class of shares; or

(6) Where the statement mentioned in clause (5)(b) is inscribed on share certificates of a co-operative, the secretary of the co-operative shall provide to any shareholder, on request and without charge, the full text of any preferences, rights, conditions, restrictions, limitations or prohibitions attached to the class of shares.

(7) The bylaws may provide that a co-operative is not required to issue share certificates with respect to common shares, and, in that case:

- (a) the register of members and shareholders kept by the co-operative pursuant to subsection 27(1) is evidence of the number of shares held by each member; and
- (b) where requested in writing by a member, the co-operative shall provide a statement to the member showing the interest of the member in the co-operative.

Dealings with registered holder

50(1) Before the transfer of a share or other security is presented for registration in registered form, a co-operative or a trustee under a trust indenture may treat the registered holder in whose name the security is registered in a register of members or securities as if he or she had full legal capacity and authority to exercise all rights of ownership without taking into account:

- (a) any knowledge or notice to the contrary, other than that obtained in a document demanded by the co-operative or trustee; or
- (b) any description in the co-operative's records or on the security certificate indicating:
  - (i) a pledge or a representative or fiduciary relationship;
  - (ii) a reference to an instrument other than its records or the security certificate; or
  - (iii) the rights of any other person.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a co-operative shall treat a person, other than the registered holder of a security described in subsection (1), as the registered holder entitled to exercise all the rights of the security holder that he or she represents, where that person provides evidence satisfactory to the co-operative that he or she is:

- (a) the executor, administrator, heir or legal representative of the heirs of the estate of a deceased registered holder;
- (b) a guardian, committee, trustee, curator or tutor representing a registered holder who is an infant, an incompetent person or a missing person; or

(4) A co-operative is not required to inquire into the existence of, or see to the performance or observance of, any duty owed to a third person by a registered holder of any of its securities or by anyone whom it treats, as permitted or required in this section, as the owner or registered holder of the security.

(5) Where an individual who is less than 18 years of age exercises any rights of ownership in the securities of a co-operative, no subsequent repudiation or avoidance is effective against the co-operative.

(6) Where a co-operative receives proof satisfactory to it of the death of any of the joint holders of a security, the co-operative may treat the survivors of the deceased joint holders as the owners of the security.

(7) Subject to any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes, a person described in clause (2)(a) is entitled to become a registered holder or to designate a registered holder, when the person deposits with the co-operative or its transfer agent:

  - (c) the security certificate, if any, that was owned by the deceased holder, endorsed by the person and accompanied by any assurance the co-operative may require that the endorsement is genuine and effective.
- (8) Notwithstanding subsection (7), where the laws of the jurisdiction governing the transmission of a security of a deceased holder do not require a grant of probate or of letters of administration with respect to the transmission, the legal representative of the deceased holder is entitled, subject to any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes, to become a registered holder or to designate a registered holder when he or she deposits with the co-operative or its transfer agent:
- (a) security certificates, if any, that were owned by the deceased holder; and
  - (b) evidence that is satisfactory to the co-operative or its transfer agent of:
    - (i) laws of the jurisdiction governing the transmission of the security;
    - (ii) the interest of the deceased holder in the security; and
    - (iii) the right of the legal representative or the person he or she designates to become the registered holder.
- (9) When documents required in subsection (7) or (8) are deposited with a co-operative or its transfer agent, the co-operative or its transfer agent may:
- (a) record in a register of members or securities the transmission of a security from the deceased holder to a person described in clause (2)(a) or to any person that the person mentioned in that clause may designate; and

- (a) subject to clause (b), each of the joint members is entitled to vote and to exercise full rights and responsibilities of membership;
  - (b) subject to subsection (2), only one joint member of a co-operative may be a director at any one time; and
  - (c) each joint member has an interest in the co-operative equal to that of other joint members.
- (2) Where a joint member also holds a membership in his or her name, that joint member may be a director, notwithstanding the fact that another joint member is also a director.

- (3) Where membership in a co-operative is held jointly:
- (a) the membership may be held as a joint tenancy or a tenancy in common, but, where the members do not specify to the co-operative how the membership is to be held, the membership is deemed to be held as a joint tenancy; and
  - (b) the joint members are jointly and severally liable for all assessments, levies, dues, fees, payments and other charges imposed or payable with respect to the membership.
- (4) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, where one joint member is obliged to and does pay more than his or her proportionate share of an assessment, levy, due, payment, fee or other charge with respect to a joint membership by reason of the default of another of the joint members, the member who paid the amount in excess of his or her proportionate share has a lien on the interest of and may recover the amount from the person who made the default.

Material contracts

93(1) This section does not require the disclosure of an interest in a contract or transaction that is of a type available to and customarily entered into between the co-operative and its members.

(2) A director or officer of a co-operative who is a party to a material contract or proposed material contract with the co-operative or is a director, officer or associate of, or has a material interest in, a person who is a party to a material contract or proposed material contract with the co-operative shall:

- (a) disclose in writing to the co-operative the nature and extent of his or her interest; or
- (b) request to have the nature and extent of his or her interest entered in the minutes of meetings of directors.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), "associate" includes a common law spouse.

(4) Where the disclosure required in subsection (2) is to be made by a director, the director shall make the disclosure:

- (a) at the meeting at which a proposed contract is first considered;
- (b) where the director is not interested in a proposed contract at the meeting mentioned in clause (a), at the first meeting after the director acquires an interest;

- (c) where the director becomes interested after a contract is made, at the first meeting after the director acquires an interest; or
  - (d) where the director has an interest in a contract before becoming a director, at the first meeting after he or she becomes a director.
- (5) Where the disclosure required in subsection (2) is to be made by an officer who is not a director, the officer shall make the disclosure:
- (a) immediately after the officer becomes aware that the contract or proposed contract is to be considered or has been considered at a meeting of directors;
  - (b) where the officer acquires an interest after a contract is made, immediately after the officer acquires the interest; or
  - (c) where the officer has an interest in a contract before becoming an officer, immediately after becoming an officer.
- (6) Notwithstanding subsections (4) and (5), where a material contract or proposed material contract is one that in the ordinary course of the co-operative's business would not require approval by the directors or shareholders, a director or officer shall disclose in writing to the co-operative, or request to have entered in the minutes of meetings of directors, the nature and extent of his or her interest after the director or officer becomes aware of the contract or proposed contract.
- (7) No director mentioned in subsection (2) may take part in discussions considering or vote on a resolution approving a contract unless the contract is:

- (9) For the purposes of this section, a general notice to the directors by a director or officer declaring that he or she is to be regarded as interested in any contract made with that person is a sufficient declaration of interest in relation to any contract made with that person.

(10) Where a director or officer discloses his or her interest in accordance with this section, and the contract in which the director or officer has a material interest is approved by the directors or members and is reasonable and fair to the co-operative at the time it was approved, the material contract is neither void nor voidable:

- (a) by reason only of that relationship; or
- (b) by reason only that a director with an interest in the contract is present at or is counted to determine the presence of a quorum at a meeting of directors or committee of directors that authorized the contract.

(11) Where a director or officer of a co-operative fails to disclose his or her interest in a material contract in accordance with this section, a court may, on the application of the co-operative or a member of the co-operative, set aside the contract on any terms that the court considers appropriate.
