Saskatchewan

Introduction

Saskatchewan is home to a dynamic economy with resources that start in the ground and end with our people. Located in the center of Canada, Saskatchewan is also the heart of Canadian agriculture. Accounting for almost 40 per cent of Canada's farmland (Source: Statistics Canada), Saskatchewan is home to a world-class agricultural sector and is one of Canada's largest agri-food producers. From producers to food manufacturers, dealers to millers, Saskatchewan's agricultural sector is vibrant and strong.

The impact that Saskatchewan agriculture has on our province and the world does not stop at our border. In 2016, Saskatchewan was a global leader in agricultural trade with $14.4 billion in agri-food exports.

The Saskatchewan Ministry of Agriculture is excited to present the Saskatchewan International Agricultural Exporter Catalogue. This catalogue showcases Saskatchewan's value-added agricultural processors in one central location. Whether you're a domestic or international food buyer, industry representative, international government official or local food manufacturer, this guide is your access point for identifying and getting in contact with Saskatchewan exporters.

About the Catalogue

The Saskatchewan International Agricultural Exporter Catalogue is published to showcase the province's value-added agricultural companies that sell their products to the international market. Information within this catalogue includes: company contact details, certifications, product and service details and current regions the companies are exporting to.

The only coding found in this document is "Ex." This marking is found beside a company representative's name and indicates that they are a designated export contact.

Getting Involved
