Statement from the Ministers

*The Honourable
Bill Boyd*

Minister of the Economy

*The Honourable
Jeremy Harrison*

Associate Minister of the Economy

It is our pleasure to present the Ministry of the Economy's Operational Plan for 2016-17.

This plan outlines our Ministry's work and activities for the coming fiscal year. Government Direction and Budget for 2016-17 invests in people and infrastructure to Keep Saskatchewan Strong, and initiates a government wide exercise of transformational change to ensure the sustainability of high quality public services delivered in the most effective and efficient way possible.

Before moving forward, we must look back. Even in the face of ongoing energy sector challenges, our economy has remained relatively resilient. Saskatchewan has held the lowest or second lowest unemployment rate in Canada since August 2008. Our population is at an all-time high— 1,142,570 as of January 1, 2016, and is the second-fastest growing province in Canada. Agricultural exports hit a record high for the fifth year in a row in 2015—total sales of over $15 billion. Total capital investment from 2007 to 2014 equals $111 billion, and Saskatchewan continues to be ranked as second in investment attractiveness worldwide by the Fraser Institute on Mining. All of these things speak to a more diversified economy, one where innovation in manufacturing, forestry and resources allow it to stay vital through tough times.

We have more work to do. Together, we are exploring new partnerships and opportunities for increased investment. We are working with employers and employees to create the conditions for long-term business success and meaningful employment. We are developing a skilled labour force and expanding our resource potential, attracting people both domestically and internationally. We are collaborating with our stakeholders, both internally and externally, to identify ways to expand our export markets, to increase trade, to generate new investment and to build on our innovation strengths.

Our Ministry is committed to keeping the province on a path of strength and the economy strong. The goals and objectives which follow will help deliver on that commitment.
