Statement from the Minister

*The Honourable
Mark Docherty*

Minister of Parks, Culture and Sport

I am pleased to present the Parks, Culture and Sport Ministry Plan for 2016-17.

Government Direction and Budget for 2016-17 invests in people and infrastructure to Keep Saskatchewan Strong, and initiates a government-wide exercise of transformational change to ensure the sustainability of high quality public services delivered in the most effective and efficient way possible.

Preserving our history is important to us at the Ministry of Parks, Culture and Sport. It is our job to preserve our cultural and historical resources, particularly as our province continues to grow. The Ministry is committed to providing first-class programs, services and events through our museums such as the Royal Saskatchewan Museum (RSM), Government House, and our provincial historic parks and sites to educate visitors about our past. We continue to invest in historic downtown properties through programs like Main Street Saskatchewan, to help restore what once was.

In 2016, we will not only preserve our history – we will make history. In May, the RSM chose Scotty the T.rex as the official provincial fossil, with help from Saskatchewan students and residents, to represent our rich paleontological history. This will make Saskatchewan one of only three provinces in Canada to have a provincial fossil. Government House will celebrate its 125th Anniversary with a variety of events planned, including a public “At Home” celebratory event in September. This event will resemble one of the open-door receptions hosted by the Lieutenant Governor during the early years of Government House.

By preserving and making history, we will build pride in our province. We will showcase and celebrate our capital city and our province through the Provincial Capital Commission as we lead up to Canada’s 150th Anniversary.

We will continue to contribute to a high quality of life for Saskatchewan residents – through access to historical and cultural resources, access to sport and recreation activities, and through our parks. The Ministry will collaborate with Creative Saskatchewan and the Saskatchewan Arts Board to support and strengthen our province’s creative industries.

Saskatchewan’s provincial parks and recreation sites hit a new attendance record of nearly 3.9 million visits in 2015 and we expect that number to continue to grow. We will continuously review and improve our programs and service delivery to maintain high visitor satisfaction.

Our progress will be reported on in the 2016-17 annual report.

Highlights

2016-17 Budget Highlights:

The Ministry of Parks, Culture and Sport will continue to operate programs in support of provincial parks, heritage, the RSM and Government House. The Ministry will also continue to fund and support our partners and stakeholders in promoting the value of arts, culture, sport and recreation.

Provincial parks visitation and visitor satisfaction remain high and Saskatchewan Parks will work to maintain infrastructure and offer new programs to keep attracting new visitors.

The Ministry will continue to keep the arts, culture, sport and recreation sectors and stakeholders strong and viable by investing:

- ⇒ $7.0M to Saskatchewan Arts Board to keep our arts community strong by investing in the arts, artists and arts organizations;
- ⇒ $7.7M to Creative Saskatchewan to grow a creative economy and the commercialization of creative products;
- ⇒ $1.7M for the Community Rink Affordability Grant, which provides $2,500 per ice surface to curling and skating rinks in the province;
- ⇒ $2.1M (estimated) in snowmobile registration fees directed to the Saskatchewan Snowmobile Trail Fund for improved trail maintenance and operation and ongoing safety programs;
- ⇒ $0.5M for the 2019 Western Canada Summer Games in Swift Current; and,
- ⇒ $25.0M – the final payment made by the Government of Saskatchewan to the new stadium in Regina.

In order to ensure that government investment remains focussed on providing effective and efficient core programs and services, the 2016-17 budget introduces two program reductions:

- ⇒ Provincial funding totaling $540,000 for five urban parks - Wakamow in Moose Jaw, Chinook Parkway in Swift Current, Pehonan in Prince Albert, River Valley in Battlefords and Tatagwa in Weyburn has been eliminated. These urban parks will continue to be assets to the urban municipalities and will continue to provide benefits to the quality of life of the residents in those cities.
- ⇒ The Active Families Benefit, a refundable Personal Income Tax credit, is being eliminated, saving the government $5.5 million per year. The credit was initiated to assist families with the cost of registering children in cultural, recreational and sports activities however, those who would most benefit from the credit often lack the resources to pay initial fees or equipment costs for activities. Support for these families is available through programs at the community level such as those administered through the Lotteries Trust Fund and / or funded through private personal and corporate donations.
