Progress in 2015-16

Government Goals - Improving Education Outcomes

Sustaining growth and opportunities for Saskatchewan people

Meeting the challenges of growth

Securing a better quality of life for all Saskatchewan people

Delivering responsive and responsible government

Strategic priority from the Saskatchewan Plan for Growth: encourage healthy, safe and fair workplaces.

Ministry Goal

Reduce provincial injury rate by 50 per cent by 2020.

Strategy

Full implementation of new targeted intervention model to reduce workplace injuries.

Continue the WorkSafe Saskatchewan partnership to ensure a focus on injury rate reduction.

Key Actions and Results

Target priority employers who have the highest injury rates.

- The Targeted Intervention Strategy identifies and targets employers with the highest injury rates regardless of industry or size. Occupational Health Officers contact employers on the targeted list and support them through the development of an improvement plan. After plans are implemented, the officers work with priority employers to ensure compliance. Should an employer fail to follow their plan, Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) will use the legislated tools available, including prosecution, to ensure compliance with occupational health and safety requirements.
- ⇒ In 2015-16, OHS worked with 89 priority employers in the targeted program to reduce their injury rates. Of these, 67 have transitioned out of phase one of the program into phase two, where they work with the Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) to develop a safety culture.

Increase education and enforcement of standards.

- Over 6,000 people took the WorkSafe Saskatchewan Workplace Responsibility System Training in one of 209 sessions.
- OHS coordinated with the Saskatchewan Construction Safety Association and WorkSafe Saskatchewan to raise awareness of health and safety during a residential construction field campaign.

Review and report on WorkSafe Saskatchewan provincial injury reduction strategy.

- ⇒ In 2015-16, WorkSafe Saskatchewan continued to monitor the health care strategy to reduce workplace injuries in facilities with the highest volume of injuries across the health care sector. Last year they worked directly with six major health care facilities under the strategy.
- ⇒ The injury rate in the health care sector fell by more than 10 per cent. The decrease means a potential reduction in the premium rate for the health care sector.

Occupational Health and Safety statistics for 2015-16:

- ⇒ Injury rate declined from 8.65 in 2013 to 6.3 per cent in in 2015
- ⇒ 2,491 worksite inspections (1,220 last year)
- ⇒ 596 notices of contravention (380 last year)
- ⇒ 57 stop work orders (38 last year)
- ⇒ 16 prosecutions initiated
- ⇒ 8 prosecution convictions, resulting in $777,140 in fines
- ⇒ Over 86,000 views of OHS content on saskatchewan.ca.

Implement a new searchable Asbestos Registry.

- An enhanced online Asbestos Registry was launched on March 30, 2015. The new database allows people to search a list of public buildings with asbestos-containing material.
- ⇒ Since the database launched, nearly 1,500 public buildings have been registered. OHS works with companies to ensure they are posting the most complete and correct information.
- An Asbestos Advisory Committee was established to provide a forum for stakeholders and the Ministry to collaborate on strategic directions related to asbestos health and safety issues.
- ⇒ Fifty-two interventions through targeted inspections have taken place to prevent asbestos exposure and improve management practices. These were based on Workers' Compensation Board claims, information from the Asbestos Registry and reports to OHS.
- ⇒ OHS continues to receive and review required notification of high-risk asbestos processes. There have been 111 notifications received, resulting in 66 inspections with eight compliance undertakings, one notice of contravention and 42 Officer's reports. Last year OHS received 96 notifications.

Update and modernize occupational health and safety mines regulations and policies to reflect leading practices.

- ⇒ Saskatchewan continues to undertake a review of The Mines Regulations, 2003 as part of an ongoing initiative to modernize the legislation and regulations for which the Ministry is responsible. The regulations have not been reviewed for a number of years and need to be updated to reflect changing technology and work practises.
- ⇒ In January, 118 representatives from the mining industry were invited to provide feedback through the Government's 'Public Consultations' website. They were able to download a consultation guide and provide input through online surveys.
- ⇒ It is anticipated that regulatory amendments will be completed by early 2017.

Performance Measures

Total Injury Rate

Total Injury Rate (per 100 full-time workers) for Priority Employers and Saskatchewan

Source: Workers' Compensation Board, 2016

The graph above shows the total injury rate for priority employers and the provincial rate.

Priority employers are a group of 176 employers with a total of 81,000 workers. These organizations have the highest injury rates in the province and thus the greatest need to improve.

In the last six years, the provincial rate has declined by 27.8 per cent from a high in 2011, while the rate for priority employers has declined by 40.5 per cent in the same period.

In 2013, Occupational Health and Safety started placing greater emphasis on targeted intervention strategies to improve safety outcomes for priority employers. As the new compliance model matures, it will be possible to compare year-over-year actual total injury rate improvements in order to better measure program outcomes.

Ministry Goal

Increase compliance with employment standards.

Strategy

Increase awareness of rights and responsibilities.

Key Actions and Results

Undertake an evaluation of the sectors where there is a lack of compliance with existing standards and identify reasons for the lack of compliance.

- ⇒ Employment Standards (ES) is collecting and analyzing complaint information related to the sector and type of complaint received in order to identify trends in compliance.
- ⇒ The Division monitors inquiries received by phone, email and in person to determine issues and trends. It also analyzes content accessed on Saskatchewan.ca to ensure information people need is available.

Develop education and enforcement tools to increase awareness of rights and responsibilities of employment standards.

- ⇒ The Division reviewed Rights and Responsibilities: A Guide to Employment Standards in Saskatchewan. The guide was downloaded nearly 81,000 times. The French version of the guide was downloaded over 1,200 times.
- ⇒ ES handled 679 complaints through its newly-launched online formal complaint system.

- ⇒ $2.816M in owed wages assessed ($2.213M of that was recovered)
- ⇒ Five convictions resulting in $7,430 in penalties
- ⇒ 113 days to resolve a formal complaint investigation (down from 120 days)
- ⇒ Over 490,000 views of ES content on saskatchewan.ca

Focus on youth awareness. Revise the Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course to reflect the provisions of The Saskatchewan Employment Act.

- ⇒ The Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course (YWRCC) provides young workers with basic information about their rights, responsibilities and safety in the workplace. The goal is to have fewer incidents of non-compliance ensuring young workers are safer in the workplace.
- ⇒ The updated online YWRCC was launched in September 2015. The updated version is more interactive to engage young workers.
- ⇒ Since the YWRCC was launched in 2010, over 110,000 certificates have been issued.

Performance Measures

Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course - by March 31, 2016, implement the revised Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course.

A new Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course was launched in September 2015. The new interactive course has been updated to include new rights and responsibilities in The Saskatchewan Employment Act.

YWRCC Certificates Issued

The number of certificates issued between 2009 and September 9, 2015 is based on the number of website page views. As of September 10, 2015, the new software allows Employment Standards to track the number of course completions and certificates issued.

Government Goals

- ⇒ OHS participated in a Ministry of Agriculture-sponsored employer workshop for the meat packing industry.
- ⇒ OHS met with representatives from the Ministry of Agriculture about farm-based employers who have been identified in the priority employer group under the targeted interventions initiative.

Continue to evaluate programs and services to ensure leading practices are used in the effective delivery of services to clients.

- ⇒ The OWA engaged in three Lean events which resulted in the use of new processes and technology to analyze trends and improve service delivery to clients. The OWA is monitoring service standards to ensure that it provides efficient, effective and timely service to its clients.
- ⇒ OHS held two Lean value stream mapping events in 2015-16:
  - One identified process time saving of nearly 40 per cent in the priority employer program; and
  - $\triangle$ The second, redirected resources and improved wait times in the discriminatory action investigation program.
- Occupational Health Officers attended investigations, procedures, hygiene and ground disturbance safety training.
- ⇒ LRM has implemented a client survey to assist in the evaluation of its services. Initial results indicate clients are satisfied.

⇒ OHS launched a survey directed to all employers who have completed phase one of the targeted intervention program. The survey will evaluate employers' experiences working through the program to identify possible areas for improvement.

Ensure marginalized workers and their families receive adequate service.

- As a result of additional resources and improvements in the intake system, the OWA has reduced the wait time for service from an average of 10 weeks in 2013-14 to 5.1 weeks in 2014-15 to one week to assignment of an Advocate in 2015-16. This is the lowest time to assignment the Division has ever achieved.
- The OWA continues to meet regularly with WCB staff to discuss issues that benefit the clients of both organizations. This includes current policy, review of claims management and appeal processes. WCB and OWA continue to work toward a common goal of ensuring the workers' compensation system is fair, accountable and responsive to the needs of injured workers in Saskatchewan.

The working group included representatives of public sector employers, government and unions.
- ⇒ On October 15, 2015, the Government introduced Bill 183, *The Saskatchewan Employment (Essential Services)*Amendment Act, 2015, which amended Bill 128 and established a new process for essential services.

Performance Measures

Compliance - by March 31, 2016, increase voluntary compliance with the employment standards.

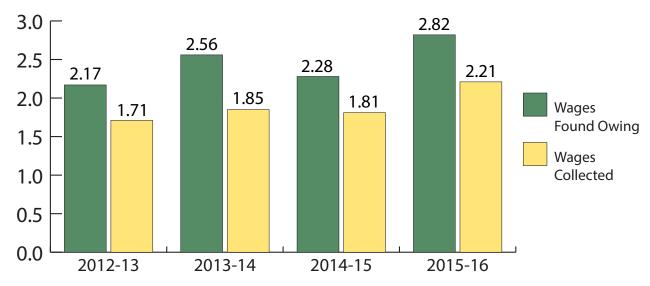

Voluntary compliance is calculated by determining the number of complaints investigated by Employment Standards where, once the complaint is found to be valid, employers voluntarily rectify the issue (ex., pay outstanding wages or change their employment practice) to come into compliance. In cases of non-voluntary compliance, ES is required to take formal, legal action to bring an employer into compliance.

When ES investigates a complaint and finds that wages are owed to an employee or group of employees our officers inform the employer of the amount owing along with an explanation based on our legislation. Most employers make payments voluntarily and come into compliance once they understand the requirements.

Over the past four years, the Division has collected an average of 76.9 per cent of the wages found owing. In 2015-16 ES collected 78.6 per cent of the wages found owing. The Division has made this metric a focus and has taken steps to maximize the amount it is able to collect.

Legislative/ Regulatory Reviews

  - Established a new essential services process is in place which addresses the concerns of the Supreme Court of Canada. The new process encourages negotiation of an essential services agreement. Where this is not possible, an independent adjudicative body will establish an agreement for the parties. The intention of the legislation is to foster on-going, productive and effective relationships between workers and employers while protecting the public.
  - Made changes to the Part III (Occupational Health and Safety) of the Act. These amendments enable regulations to establish standard requirements for hazardous materials across Canada. The harmonization of workplace hazardous materials regulations is underway. It is anticipated this initiative will be completed in 2016-17.
